Wild Things!

Photography for Animal Lovers

Curated by Greg Garry

5.2.09 – 6.5.09

Reception: 5.2.09, 6pm – 9pm

Stricola Contemporary is pleased to announce Wild Things! Photography for Animal Lovers, curated by Greg Garry.

Animals... they're just like us! They are as vain, vicious, sexy, bitchy, whiny, fragile and as neurotic as their homosapien counterparts. Wild Things reflects all that good, bad and sometimes face-eating behavior.

Photographers included in the exhibition are; Roderick Angle, Corey Arnold, John Arsenault, Polly Borland, Radeq Brousil, Chris Buck, Luke Gilford, Jill Greenberg, Boza Ivanovic, Adam Krause, Kate Kunath, Catherine Ledner, Patrick McMullan, Eric McNatt, Perou, Stacey Pittman, Ryan Pfluger, Andy Reynolds, Isabella Rozendaal, Matt Salacuse, Robin Schwartz, Sarah Small, Michaela Walker, Alexo Wandael, Michael Werner, Sarah Wilmer, and Alex Young.

Greg Garry has worked as a magazine editor and writer at Flaunt, Art Review and most recently was photo director of the late pop culture title Radar. "I couldn't stand the site of another pseudo celebrity, so I thought why not sweet photos of puppies and kitties?" Garry included fine art and commercial photographers working in New York and across the globe, and wasn't surprised so many found their muse in our furry, feathered and fishy friends.
